Feb 2025 - May 2025

Designed and developed a full-featured freelance platform using CodeIgniter 3 and MySQL, enabling seamless collaboration between clients and freelancers. The system supports user authentication with role-based dashboards, smart proposal ranking based on skills and bid value, and a secure file exchange module post-approval. Integrated an intuitive admin panel for platform management and ensured full mobile responsiveness with a modern UI. The project reflects end-to-end web development and real-world freelancing workflow implementation.

E-Learning System - Link to Demo

Developed a dynamic online learning platform using CodeIgniter 3 and MySQL that enables students to access courses, take exams, and receive personalized recommendations. Implemented machine learning models for course suggestions using collaborative and content-based filtering, enhancing the overall learning experience. The system also features secure user authentication, role-based dashboards, and an intuitive, responsive interface.

Wine Quality Prediction- Link to Demo

Dec 2023 - Feb 2024

Built a machine learning model to predict wine quality based on physicochemical features using Python and scikit-learn. Implemented data preprocessing, feature selection, and model training with algorithms like Random Forest and Logistic Regression. Evaluated performance using accuracy, precision, and confusion matrix to ensure reliable predictions. Designed the project to demonstrate practical ML application in real-world datasets.
